Miss Mamie Hawkins, granddaughter of Dr. J. Russell Hawkins, who for the past year has been a pupil in the Home School of Louisville, one of the most popular Female Institutions of the State, (Miss B. L. Peers being the principal) has returned to this vicinity where she will spend, with her relations and friends, the summer vacation. We with pleasure chronicle the fact, that Miss Mamie was one of five out of a hundred and twenty-five young ladies whose names are to be found on the roll of honor, and one who received the gold medal for having excelled all in penmanship. It may not be out of place here to state that Miss Addie (the sister of Miss Mamie Hawkins) a pupil of the City School of Frankfort, received at the hands of her teacher (the far famed instructress Miss Julia Todd) the highest honors conferred by the school on the class of young ladies of which she was a member. These young ladies no doubt will ever bear in mind the Latin maxim "Per aspera ad astra."

Saved His Life.

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., says he was, for many years, badly afflicted with Phthisis, also Diabetes, the pains were almost unendurable and would sometimes almost throw him into convulsions. He tried Electric Bitters and got relief from first bottle and after taking six bottles, was entirely cured and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds. Says he positively believes he would have died, had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Jos. LeCompte.

Bald Knob.

Prof. Tracy is in Louisville this week and he took in the State Teachers' Association.

Mr. Silas Fox, of Connersville, Harrison county, made a short visit to this place the first of the week.

Mr. Jack Huette, of the Hutton neighborhood, has been employed to teach the Public School at this place.

The following are the candidates for magistrature in this precinct: W. B. Tracy, Ed. Lee, David Hall, Theodore Carr, Dennis Bailey.

Disinfectants are used to keep off Uncle Zeke's sort of itch. We learn that it attacks the Mugwumps or Zeke Youn's G. O. P. Instantaneously.

Mr. A. F. Violett has resigned his position as Post Master at Flag Fork and has transferred his position to Mr. John Hall, who is now the P. M. at that place.

Wednesday, Thursday, July 1st, 1886, Mr. Tom Johnson, of Shelby county, and Miss Emma Yont, of this place, at the residence of the bride's father, F. M. Jarke officiating.

Miss Elvora Hamilton's school at Eden School house closed last Saturday with the highest honors. She returned to her home in Frankfort with the best wishes for her future welfare. Messrs. Joe and Bill Seale have quit sawing lumber and have gone to Shelby county to thresh wheat. The grist mill is still run by J. K. P. Moore, who will continue to grind for his customers on Friday of each week.

Pea Ridge.

Grass cutting and wheat stacking.

Farmers jubilant. All crops good. Profusion is the rule—grass, grain, and corn.

Rev. Roberts will preach here tomorrow at 11 o'clock. Sunday-school at 3 o'clock.

A mad dog made us a visit last Monday and was promptly chased, shot and killed.

The oft discussed turnpike question is again in the front claiming our attention. This time it is the route. As is usual several routes are each sold to be the best. There need be no trouble. There is but one thing to do—select a good route and build the pike. Our Court of Claims have the matter under consideration. They will do the right thing. We entrust the affairs of our country to their management and can safely trust them to locate a pike. If we can't why elect them?

Our school trustees, and in fact our people generally, very much regret that the Blair educational bill failed to become law, for they fully expected that part of the fund created by the passage of the bill would have been available to increase the efficiency of our district school the coming session. Every one favors the object of the bill. Some few dislike the means. Would rather the State educate the children without U. S. assistance. If the object is good the means can't be very bad. Let us educate the children.

Ears Almost Eaten off.

About eight months ago I contracted blood poisoning. I was treated by a private physician on Thirty-first street, and sent for a month at the New York Hospital. Finding I did not improve, I began taking Swift's Specific. Up to this time I had a drowsy and sleepy feeling continually, with no appetite, and was losing flesh rapidly. I was covered over the ankles, arms, neck and face with sores, and it seemed that my ears would be eaten off. I have taken seven bottles of the S. S. S., and the sores are all gone except a few on my forehead, and they are nearly out of sight; my ears are entirely well, my appetite is splendid, and I have gained five pounds weight. I feel so perfectly well that I know in a short time I will be soundly cured.

FRANK E. KEEFE, 405 W. 71st St. New York, Feb. 13, 1886.

Fat and Roxy.

My little boy has suffered for six years with scrofulous sores. Many who saw him a year or so ago thought he never could recover. He commenced taking Swift's Specific, and has taken about twelve bottles, which has effected a perfect cure. I have waited some time to see whether the disease would come back, but am now satisfied that the cure is permanent, for all the sores are gone, and he is fat and roxy, and as playful as any child of his age. With a grateful heart know only to my mother I write these lines.

FRANKFORT, KY., July 6, 1886.

To Capt. Abrahams, Officers and Crew of the Steamer Grace Morris and Excursion Barge.

We desire publicly to return our thanks to you for your kind and untiring attention, and your carefulness on the occasion of the delightful excursion of our two Sunday-schools, which we had yesterday twenty-five miles up the Ky. river and return. We cordially recommend you and your boat to all contemplating a similar trip. We had four hundred children, parents and children and no accident to mar the pleasure of the trip.

Very Respectfully,
S. C. BELL.

W. C. T. U. Notes.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet in the Chapel of the Christian Church Wednesday p. m. at five o'clock.

Band of Hope, Sunday p. m. four o'clock, at Masonic Hall. This is a work in which every one should take a lively interest, the children are taught the effects of alcohol and other narcotic poisons on the system, so that being forewarned they may know the deadly foe that lurks in the wine cup, and never touch, taste, or handle anything that will intoxicate. A few lessons on the subject would not go amiss with some of the children of a larger growth, surely they would not swallow such a quantity of poison every day. If they knew it to be poison, ignorance is no excuse. Drunkenness is a crime in the sight of God and man, and it is the duty of every one to do everything possible to prevent crime.

Proper Treatment for Coughs.

That the reader may fully understand what constitutes a good Cough and Lung Syrup, we will say that Tur and Wild Cherry is the basis of the best remedies yet discovered. These ingredients with several others equally as efficacious, enter largely into Dr. Bosnak's Cough and Lung Syrup, thus making it one of the most reliable now on the market. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Samples free. Sold by Hughes & Chiles.

•An Efficient Remedy

In all cases of Bronchial and Pulmonary Affections is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. As such it is recognized and prescribed by the medical profession, and in many thousands of families, for the past forty years, it has been regarded as an invaluable household remedy. It is a preparation that only requires to be taken in very small quantities and a few doses of it administered in the early stages of a cold or cough will effect a speedy cure, and may, very possibly, save life. There is no doubt whatever that

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has preserved the lives of great numbers of persons, by arresting the development of Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, and Pulmonary Consumption, and by the cure of those dangerous malades. It should be kept ready for use in every family where there are children, as it is a medicine far superior to all others in the treatment of Croup, the alleviation of Whooping Cough, and the cure of Colds and Indigestion, and its use is particularly incidental to childhood and youth. Promptitude in dealing with all diseases of this class is of the utmost importance. The loss of a single day may, in many cases, entail fatal consequences. Do not waste precious time in experimenting with medicines of doubtful efficacy, while the malady is constantly gaining a deeper hold, but take at once the speediest and most certain to cure.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky as second class mailable matter.

GEORGE A. LEWIS.

Editor and Publisher.

FRANKFORT, JULY 10, 1886.

Last year there were brought to this market 570,000 bushels of coal, through the medium of the Kentucky river. This year there has been brought, so far, over 1,000,000. Before the locks and dams were repaired the railroad charged 7 cents per 100 pounds freight on coal and now it charges 1 cent per bushel of 72 pounds. From 1867 to 1870, when the locks and dams were in such a condition that they could not be used, the State paid from 21 to 54 cents per bushel for coal to supply the public offices, and now coal is being wholesaled at 7 and 8 cents. These are some of the blessings of the Kentucky river improvement, and still there are men who are opposed to the Government improving the river.

Frankfort's First Centennial

Which is to be held on the sixth day of October, 1886, promises to be full of blessings and only blessings to all persons concerned in any way with its celebration. The fact that this is Frankfort's centennial year seems not to have been thought of until some time in April last, when a few of our citizens called a meeting through this paper and organized a Centennial Association for the purpose of taking steps looking to the holding of the meeting. Correspondence was at once opened with former citizens of Frankfort who are now holding distinguished positions in other States, and the matter began to be talked over freely with the people of Frankfort, and up to the present time it is believed that not a single person has been written or spoken to on this subject who did not heartily approve of the movement. In a word it has had the stamp of success upon it from the start. No doubt one of the main features of the popularity of the measure results from the known fact that it is to be so conducted as to give every church, profession, office, trade, party and calling a fair and equal representation, looking alone to the success of the grand enterprise, with good feeling for all and malice toward none. It is not at all strange that all good people who have influence and talents are ready and anxious to aid in such a movement; indeed it would be strange if a single person be found who would withhold his talents or his aid on such an occasion. The first orators in Kentucky have cheerfully consented to deliver the centennial orations, and more than half a dozen of Kentucky's most gifted poets are now preparing centennial odes—several of them to be read by the poets themselves and the shorter ones to be sung by Frankfort's orchestra of divine singers. If the programme is carried out to the end on the high plane on which it has been started, we see no reason to doubt that by the time the centennial is over the good people of Frankfort will forget that any differences or heart-burnings ever existed between them, and they will have occasion to rejoice that this movement gave them the occasion for acting in harmony as a united people having but one common object in view. By keeping open house on this occasion and extending the invitation broadcast all over the State, and even to other States, Frankfort will have the opportunity to return and repay many an act of kindness and generosity which she has received in bygone years and put herself and her citizens on the most pleasant and agreeable terms with representative people in all sections—a position which the capital city has so long striven to deserve, and which she still desires to maintain. This is Frankfort's opportunity, and we are happy to believe that our people not only realize but are fully capable of rising on that occasion to the full measure of the situation, and of offering to her invited guests and to her own citizens such a feast of fit things as has not been spread within her limits during the century. Such a result would truly place Frankfort in an enviable position. To bring about such a result should be the constant effort of every true friend of Frankfort's prosperity in the new century of her existence. What a glorious and christianized it would be for us all to bury all past differences in the grave of the departing century and step into the coming one freed and unincumbered and march forward in the new century with the elastic and powerful tread of a united people. This is what we need, and our word for it this will be the situation of affairs after our people shall have worked together as one man for three months in preparing the details of this entertainment in which all are alike interested.

The ladies of the Baptist Church will give an entertainment for the benefit of the Repair Fund at Mrs. M. L. Campbell's, on Tuesday evening, July 13th, from 7 to 11 o'clock. Ice and cake in every variety will be served for twenty-five cents and no extra charge for admission. All are cordially invited.

IN MEMORIAM.

DEED.—At the residence of her son-in-law, Herman Crutcher, in Lexington, Kentucky, on Friday, July 24, 1886, Mrs. EASY R. GILBERT, in the 91st

The deceased was the widow of the late Bernard Gilbert, of Woodford county, and a most estimable christian lady. In early life she professed her faith in Christ and united with the Baptist Church, and until her removal to Missouri some years since, was an earnest and zealous member of Clear Creek Church, near Versailles. In all her long and useful life it was her earnest endeavor to live always near to God and to practice in her life and conversation the teachings of the bible, which book she delighted to read above all others. And when, in her declining years, time had dimmed her vision so that she could no longer peruse its beloved pages, and it was inconvenient for others to read to her, she would sit for hours and repeat from memory chapter after chapter to herself, taking sweet comfort from the promises therein contained to those who love the Savior. Kind and gentle in disposition, no better or more affectionate wife and mother ever lived than she, and to her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren she left the blessed heritage of a life and character most beautiful in its every feature, and one worthy of their closest imitation.

Though loving heart and gentle hands endeavored as her bedside, her last hours were those of intense pain and suffering. Not a murmur escaped her lips, but with calm resignation she awaited the summons of her Maker to "come up higher," and gently breathed her life away.

"She is not dead, but liveth now.
Eternal life stamp'd on her brow,
Joy unspeakable th' low impart
Their full fruition to her heart;
All pain and sorrow, sin forgot,
Life everlasting is her lot.
She lives with him who for her died,
If this be death, then she is dead."

DECEASED.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

FRANKFORT, JULY 10, 1888.

Rev. P. S. Fall will preach at Grassy Spring on next Lord's Day, July 11th, at 11 o'clock.

The break in the pump at the water works was repaired Monday and the water again turned into the pipes that afternoon.

Mr. Daise will preach at the Christian Church to-morrow morning and night as usual. Night service begins at 8 o'clock.

Judge W. H. Holt has rented the residence of Judge G. W. Craddock, on Shelby street, and will take possession about the first of September.

Miss Fannie Herndon entertained a few young friends at Locust Grove Farm, near this city, on Friday evening, in honor of her guests, Misses Nina McGowan and Lena Bennett, of Louisville, the occasion also being Miss Fannie's birthday.

The newboys of the city had a picnic in Alley's woods, on the Glens Creek pike, on Monday, which was quite a success. The affair was managed by Master Tommie G. Newman, and there were about thirty little fellows in attendance. The day was spent in all kinds of amusement and they enjoyed themselves so much that they did not return to the city until 7 o'clock in the evening.

The corner-stone of the new Public School Building will be laid with Masonic ceremonies on Saturday evening next, July 17th. The Committee of Arrangements are at work making preparations to have a grand affair of it. The Lodges of Masons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Honor and Frankfort Commandery, Knights Templar, and Canton Berry, I. O. O. F., have been invited to turn out, and the City Council, Fire Department and Police are expected to take part in the procession. Bernard G. Witt, Esq., of Henderson, Grand Master of Masons, has been invited to be present and perform the ceremony, but in case he cannot come, Wm. Ryan, Esq., of Louisville, has been invited to act as his proxy.

The Mikado Troupe went from this city to Versailles Tuesday evening and played before a large and enthusiastic audience, standing room in the hall being taken at a premium. Mr. Frank Hatchison's Ko-Ko completely captivated the audience, and he was encoored five or six times during the evening. The balance of the company did their parts better than at any previous performance, and the citizens of Versailles were so well pleased that they were anxious for them to repeat the performance last night.

The Versailles correspondent of the Midway Clipper says of the entertainment:

The Mikado in Odd-Fellows' Hall Tuesday night by the Frankfort Opera Company was attended by the largest audience which has greeted an entertainment here in years. Nor was any one disappointed, for the opera was first-class in every particular. Koko was especially fine in his character, and was greeted with vociferous applause. His address to Katsim was something grand. An effort will be made to have it repeated here shortly.

What a glorious opportunity the turfmen will have for getting up a combination horse race—a trotting race and a running race on the mile track at the old Fair Grounds as a part of the centennial on the 6th of October! Have Longfellow and Ten Broeck, two of the most noted living horses, present as visitors for the crowd to look at and admire. Such races and a regular sale of thoroughbred horses could be arranged without interfering with the general proceedings of the regular centennial. Go to work, friends of the turf, and arrange these races and sales as a part of the centennial—they will work together like a charm.

The small boys might also have a boat race—a rowing match—from the lock to the Hermitage Distillery. Boys, organize your rowing clubs at once and delight the people with a boat race at the centennial. A move-along along the line is the way to make the centennial the biggest thing ever witnessed in Kentucky.

John L. Scott will address the Teachers' Association at Peak's Mill to-day.

Rev. G. F. Parby will preach at Brick Run Church, this county, on to-morrow, July 11, at 11 o'clock, a. m.

Notwithstanding the complaints of the farmers during the wet weather last month, the wheat crop is a very fair one in this section.

The bill appropriating $15,000 to complete the Government Building in this city has passed the Senate and been signed by the President, and it is to be hoped that work will soon be resumed upon it and pushed to an early completion.

Thursday morning of last week Charley Berry, white, — Page and another little colored boy, none of them over 8 years of age, were playing on the river bank at the foot of Moro street, when Page and the other colored boy fell in the river and were about being drowned, when Charley Berry ran into the water nearly up to his neck and pulled them out. When the little fellow realized how near they were losing their lives and he had saved them, he was frightened nearly out of his wits and burst into a flood of tears.

Last Monday evening as Mr. Joe Tracy, of Pen Ridge, was returning home from it is city he saw a drunken man with his horse across the plank sidewalk on Second street completely blocking it. Mr. Tracy helped the man, who was about to fall, carefully off and laid him on the side of the road out of danger of passing vehicles and then left the horse close by and left him. Just then a rock flew over Mr. Tracy's head, who on turning round saw the drunken man in the act of throwing another. Joe says if either rock had struck him in the head he would never have been able to assist any man again drunk or sober and that as far as that man is concerned he believes in prohibition strictly enforced.

The following named Odd Fellows were installed as officers of Capital Lodge No. 6, Monday night, July 6th, for the ensuing term of six months: Lee A. Owens, N. G.

Adam K. Stephens, V. G.
J. Russ. Williams, Secy.
E. A. Fellmer, Treas.
Wm. McManis, O. G.

After which they adjourned to the north hall of the Temple and partook of refreshments furnished by the newly installed officers. After having partaken sumptuously all present wended their way home hoping that Capital Lodge No. 6 might continue to do the same great good in the present term that she has in the past ninety-nine.

Honorable W. C. Herndon, City Attorney, has served notice on the School Board, that in consequence of the tall trees and rich foliage in the school yard field glasses are inadequate for examining school buildings from a bridge stand point. The School Board have come to the conclusion, after discussing the subject fully, that it would be trespassing upon private hospitality to accept Mr. A. W. Overton's kind offer by using his piazza for watching the progress of the new school building, and as the majority of the City Council have failed to provide means to get to the platform which Mr. Buckley so generously offered to build among the branches of one of the shady elms, the friends of the School Board—a majority of the City Council included—have determined to get up a monster petition to the Honorable Secretary of the Treasury, requesting him to order Capt. Grubbs, the superintendent of the new government building, located on the north bank of the Kentucky river, to prepare at once the cupola, with cushioned seats, and the necessary instruments, such as field glasses, our tripods, etc., for the use and comfort of the School Board so that they can see the work on the new school building as it goes on and have the new building even with the other superintendent, Mr. Jeffers, to instruct Mike Buckley what street lot to put the dirt at as he excavates it from the cellars.

Cure for Piles.

Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose has some cerebral disease, or kidney or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. Anorexia, like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a common attendant. Blind, bleeding and itching Piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the Tumors, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure. Price 50 cents. Address, The Dr. Bosanko Medicine Co., 114m. O. Sold by Hughes & Chiles.
